STORE open to-night till ten. But to-morrow night it will be closed at 7. Ten thousand people have been on the Wanamaker pay-rolls this month (here and in Philadelphia). This business has not only won a place in the economic life of two cities, but it is a factor in the social and moral life, bringing responsibilities that we try to meet by working for an improved personnel, and by supplying facilities for the comfort and broadening of those in our employ. This secular Christmas Eve (to-morrow) is theirs and ours. It is noticeable that the store service here is pleasant—it is growing still better. Wanamaker's shall not only be the best Christmas Store but the best every-day store in New York.

It is an economical store, where fair prices rule even in holiday times, Very busy, but very careful, and the last Christmas gift we undertake to send home shall be in the
